Section II. | Custodian Acknowledgement

As Custodian of the Texas Tuition Promise Fund (“TTPF”) Account, I understand and acknowledge that the following will apply:

- Any and all payments to this TTPF account will be considered UGMA/UTMA funds (custodial funds) and become an asset of the Beneficiary.
- If I desire to purchase units that are not UGMA/UTMA payments in a TTPF account, a separate TTPF contract must be established with such funds.
- I understand that as Custodian of a UGMA/UTMA account:
 - I am not the owner of the account, rather, I hold the account as Custodian for the Beneficiary.
 - I may not change the Designated Beneficiary.
 - If I cancel the account, I personally will not receive a refund. Rather, a refund will be issued to the Beneficiary in order to comply with the intent of the UGMA/UTMA's creation and provide for proper taxing of any earnings.
 - It is my responsibility to refrain from exercising certain rights under the TTPF contract in order to maintain the UGMA/UTMA qualified status.
 - It is my responsibility to notify the program when the custodianship terminates (the minor reaches the age of majority) at which time the Beneficiary becomes the account owner.
 - At the age of majority, the Beneficiary will own the contract and will have all of the rights of the contract Purchaser even if I fail to notify the Plan of custodianship termination.

- Maintaining UGMA/UTMA status of the TTPF contract is my responsibility as the Custodian of the account, and I hereby release TTPF from any liability for any loss of UGMA/UTMA qualified status due to the purchase, servicing, cancellation or exercise of the rights under the TTPF contract.
- Every situation is unique and TTPF does not give tax advice, nor does TTPF endorse the use of UGMA/UTMA assets to fund a TTPF contract.
- I understand and acknowledge that TTPF highly recommends that I speak to a professional tax advisor before liquidating and/or purchasing the UGMA/UTMA account in a TTPF contract.
